

Suggested Resources for Coping with Low Mood

You have been sent this pack as it has been suggested that you are struggling with feeling low in mood. This is not a pleasant feeling to be experiencing, but you are not alone.

Please find below a list of resources that other children, young people and families have found useful in the past. We hope that you find these helpful.

Suggested Apps

Relaxation and mindfulness can be useful skills to develop to help children and young people cope with low mood. These can be practiced with the Smiling Mind, Headspace and Calm apps.

App	Helpful for...
Smiling Mind 	• Age: suitable for all ages • Provides different guided relaxation and mindfulness exercises • Free
Head Space 	• Age: older children and adolescents • Provides mindfulness exercises • Has a free trial
Calm 	• Age: older children and adolescents • Suitable for older children and teenagers • Provides relaxation exercises including a visual aid for controlled breathing techniques
Mindshift 	• Age: older children and adolescents • MindShift™ CBT uses scientifically proven strategies based on Cognitive Behavioural Therapy (CBT) to help you learn to relax and be mindful, and develop more effective ways of thinking to help you to manage worries you might experience. • Free • https://www.anxietycanada.com/resources/mindshift-cbt/

Websites and Supports

Reviewed: July 2021

Next Review: January 2022

Information and advice on depression and low mood from HandsOn: http://www.handsonscotland.co.uk/depression-and-low-mood/
Information and tips on self-care for young people: https://www.annafreud.org/on-my-mind/self-care/
NHS Inform website with information about low mood and depression https://www.nhsinform.scot/healthy-living/mental-wellbeing/low-mood-and-depression/low-mood-and-depression
There are free stress management classes called Stress Control available to those aged 16+ https://services.nhslothian.scot/stresscontrol/Pages/default.aspx https://stresscontrol.org/stress-control	